CABA ANNOUNCES CONNECT 2005 CONFERENCE SESSIONS AND WORKSHOPS

April 18, 2005

CABA is pleased to announce that it will be working in conjunction with Realcomm to deliver integrated and intelligent building education to the commercial real estate industry.

CONNECT 2005 is being held in conjunction with Realcomm's Intelligent Building sessions and Intelligent Building Exposition. The show will also run alongside the North American Commercial Real Estate Congress and the Office Building Show presented by the Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA). The combination of all the above events will collectively create North America's first "Commercial Real Estate Week."

CABA's event will be held on June 27 and 28 at the Anaheim Convention Center in Anaheim, CA. Access to both the Realcomm and BOMA exhibition floors will be included for CONNECT attendees. CABA members are encouraged to use discount code RC05CABA1 to receive $100 off when registering for Realcomm sessions and the expo floor.

The CONNECT 2005 event itself will feature an industry workshop focused on CABA's Intelligent Building Ranking System, a tool intended to assist building owners, property managers and other industry professionals to assess the level of integrated systems within large buildings and its impact on the building's value.

A technology investment session is also scheduled at the CONNECT 2005 Conference. In conjunction with IBF Conferences, CABA will run a "VC Pitch-Fest" which will feature emerging intelligent building technologies and products going in front of venture capitalists for their feedback and discussion.

"We are extremely pleased to partner with Realcomm again and offer the highest-quality information and programming to attendees of Commercial Real Estate Week," stated Ronald J. Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "The beneficial information and industry intelligence that CABA members will gain from CONNECT 2005 and the other associated events will exceed any expense involved in attending."

"Likewise, we are exciting to be working with CABA again and are happy that the organization is holding CONNECT 2005 in conjunction with Realcomm, and is actively participating within our intelligent building tracks and expo," said Jim Young, CEO and Producer, Realcomm. "Through CABA's participation, Realcomm attendees will be exposed to building technology solutions that will provide their customers with immense value, and that translate into greater revenue."
