Description: This panel will share observations and predictions from key thought leaders on the impacts of Covid-19 on intelligent buildings. Ken Sinclair (AutomatedBuildings.com) will be moderating the panel and will discuss how being resilient and making people count will need to be part of our "global reboot". Marc Petock (Lynxspring, Inc.) will discuss the new realities that building owners, integrators, contractors and solution providers face. Tom Shircliff (Intelligent Buildings, LLC) will discuss the new challenges for building contractors and systems, leading to new risks for owners, managers and occupants. Ron Tellas (Belden Inc.) will discuss if the pandemic will serve as a change agent, transforming the way we use technology.
