Scott Cochrane of Cochrane Supply & Engineering named to the CABA Board of Directors

March 22, 2023 — The Continental Automated Buildings Association (CABA) Board is pleased to announce the appointment of Scott Cochrane of Cochrane Supply to the CABA Board of Directors.

“I have long been a fan of CABA’s work to promote positive advancements in the BAS industry,” said Scott Cochrane, President & CEO of Cochrane Supply. “I am thrilled with the opportunity to help drive this important mission by engaging with and learning from other CABA members.”

A multiple award-winning leader in smart building automation and controls, Cochrane Supply & Engineering offers products for commercial and industrial building comfort, safety and security, as well as world-class technical support, development and training.

Under Scott’s leadership, the company has grown significantly, opening 11 branch locations in six states and Canada (Canada Controls). An advisory council member for top industry manufacturers like Honeywell and Johnson Controls, Scott is also co-editor of smart building news site automatedbuildings.com and Executive Chairman of Controls-Con, the smart building controls conference hosted by Cochrane.

“Scott is warmly welcomed by our board of industry leaders and drivers,” said Greg Walker, CEO of CABA. “A connected and engaged thought leader, his deep knowledge and broad connections offer strong support for our vision to create the smart buildings of the future.”
